- University of Nebraska Innovation, Development, and Engagement Award (IDEA), UNL Recipients
- University-Wide Departmental Teaching Award (UDTA), UNL Recipients

University of Nebraska Award for Outstanding Research and Creative Activity (ORCA) University of Nebraska-Lincoln Recipients

Two ORCA awards are presented each year in honor of outstanding research or creative activity of national/international significance conducted by individual full-time faculty members at NU. The awards are given for a sustained record of excellent accomplishment in research or creative activity, rather than “meritorious service”. A major part of the work on which each nomination is based must have been done while the nominee has served at NU. Each nominee must still be engaged in research or other creative activity at the University to be eligible. Each recipient receives $3,500 and an award medallion and plaque. Nominees are reviewed by a university-wide committee, appointed by the provost, of graduate faculty, who recommend recipients to the provost, who makes the appointment.

University of Nebraska Innovation, Development, and Engagement Award (IDEA)
University of Nebraska-Lincoln Recipients

The IDEA is a university-wide faculty award recognizing faculty excellence in engagement and outreach. Up to two awards are presented annually. The award honors faculty members who extend their academic expertise beyond traditional boundaries of the university in ways that enrich the broader community. Faculty members are recognized for working with citizens, businesses, government and nonprofit organizations, other educational institutions, communities, or regions to develop new ideas, technologies, programs, or businesses that strengthen the region or community economically, educationally, or governmentally. Recipients receive an award of $3,500, a presidential medallion, and a plaque from NU.

Annis Chaikin Sorensen Award Distinguished Teaching in the Arts and Humanities

A campus-wide award conferred upon a scholar in one of the following disciplines: art, classics, communication studies, English, history, modern languages and literatures, journalism, libraries, music, philosophy, theatre arts, ROTC, museum, athletic department and all departments in the College of Architecture. It was first conferred in 1981 and commemorates the matriarch of a Nebraska family notable for service in politics, education and business at the state, national and international levels. Annis Sorensen led the movement to put women's suffrage on the Nebraska ballot. The award recognizes creative activities related to teaching in the humanities focusing on courses, curriculum development and or program development. The recipient receives a $1,500 stipend.

Donald R. and Mary Lee Swanson Award for Teaching Excellence

Funded by a gift from Donald R. Swanson, this award honors exemplary teaching in the College of Education and Human Sciences, and carries a $12,500 cash gift for the recipient. The award was first given in 1999. The central focus of the award is the positive impact of teaching on students. Winners will have demonstrated a record of teaching in a manner that engages students in higher order thinking; teaching that enables students to become active and continuous learners; a history of holding high standards for student performance and a record of engagement in activities and research to improve one’s own teaching. Donald Swanson retired in 1987 from Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. after a 40 year career. His late wife, Mary Lee, was a 1940 graduate of Teachers College. Mr. Swanson believes that teachers are the key to turning lives in positive directions.

Charles Bessey and Willa Cather Professorships

These professorships are awarded to faculty who have demonstrated an exceptional record of distinguished scholarship and creative activity. Their work reflects the highest levels of achievement, quality and importance. Willa Cather, a NU alumna and winner of the 1923 Pulitzer Prize for her novel One of Ours, is widely recognized as one of America's premiere authors. Charles Bessey, an NU professor at the turn of the 20th century, was a pioneering botanist and educator. Recognized for his pioneering science, including among other interests the ecology of the prairie, he served as president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and editor of Science magazine. The professorships are granted for five-year, renewable appointments, and were established in 2002.

Harold and Esther Edgerton Junior Faculty Award

Established in 2001, this award honors outstanding junior (pre-tenured) faculty in the third year of his or her appointment who has demonstrated creative research, extraordinary teaching abilities and academic promise. The award's goal is to provide strong incentive to pre-tenure faculty to expand expertise and enhance learning at UNL. This award provides resources for professional development funds and a cash award for two years. It is named in honor of a distinguished alumnus, inventor of the strobe light and instrumental in refining sonar, and his wife.

Susan J. Rosowski Associate Professorships

This professorship recognizes faculty at the associate professor level who have achieved distinguished records of scholarship or creative activity and who show exceptional promise for future excellence. This professorship is open only to associate professors who have no other named professorship. It is a five-year professorship and carries a $3,000 annual stipend. The Rosowski Professorship is named in honor of the late Susan J. Rosowski (1942-2004), who at the time of her death was the Adele Hall Distinguished Professor of English at UNL. She established the (Willa) Cather Project, and was general editor for the scholarly edition of Cather's works published by the NU Press, a multi-volume project.

Paula and D.B. Varner University Professorship

This professorship is awarded to a member of the faculty who has earned distinction as a teacher-scholar and who has demonstrated loyalty to the University through an extended period of distinguished service. The professorship was established in 1986 by the NU Foundation's Executive Committee to honor the Varners upon Mr. Varner's retirement as chairman of the Foundation. Mr. Varner headed the NU system for seven years before becoming its chief fundraiser. When he arrived in Nebraska from Michigan in 1970 to assume the reins of NU central administration, the CEO position was titled chancellor. Soon, the title was switched to president. He left that position in 1977 and became chairman of the NU Foundation until his official retirement in 1987.

George W. Holmes University Professorship

These professorships are supported by the NU Foundation from the estate of George W. Holmes, a prominent Lincoln businessman, civic leader and philanthropist in the 1920s. Holmes was the nephew of one of Lincoln's earliest businessmen, Silas Burnham, president of First National Bank. In 1911, Holmes was the originating secretary/general manager and later president of the First Trust Co., was a director of Beatrice Foods and the Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. In the 1920s, Holmes' bank guaranteed the loans that allowed the construction of Memorial Stadium. Holmes gave the city a tract of land upon which was built Holmes School, which honored his mother. The family name also lives on in Lincoln's Holmes Park, Holmes Lake and Holmes Golf Course.
